Council Notes

• Constitution & By-Laws

It has been twenty-four years since the church constitution and by-laws have been updated. The council has selected a committee of five to review and bring their recommendations to council. Upon approval it will be bought to our annual meeting on February 9, 2025 for congregational approval, according to Article XI, 1. (Committee: Don Reese, Karen Jorgenson, Greg Flugum, Lydia Gray, and Pr. Bob).

Medical Emergency Procedure

Our recent medical emergency on September 1, became a 911 issue. After discussion and research, the most efficient way to call 911 is to us a landline if at all possible, as that will bring up the address of the caller which will save time explaining who and where. Also, in the event of a future emergency during a service, a deacon should approach the pastor and inform him of the situation and a deacon will call 911 if necessary. We would ask that people remain calm and if you need to exit the sanctuary please use the doors that are the farthest away from the incident. We are thankful to have two nurses and a first responder to oversee any medical emergency. They should be given the needed space to provide assistance until medical personnel arrives if needed.

Gratitude is simply choosing to remember Who God is no matter what I'm going through.

To this end we always pray for you, that our God may make you worthy of His calling and may fulfill every resolve for good and every work of faith by His power, so that the name of our Lord Jesus may be glorified in you, and you in Him, according to the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ.

2 Thessalonians 1:11-12

When a missionary friend preached on this recently, one of his questions was, "What are the works of faith and the good works that we have in our hearts resolved to do?" We desire to go back to our ministry in the Philippines, to see the Sama church grow, especially in places where there is no church. We want to see the Bible finished. We want to see faith grow in the communities where we have been planting seeds. It feels like we are one step closer to seeing that happen.

Chemo is Over!

We are happy to announce that 6 rounds of chemotherapy and targeted treatment every three weeks resulted in the disappearance of one of the malignant tumors in Ruth's breast, the second tumor shrunk down to only 4mm and the DCIS (for those of you who know what that is) also responded to the treatment to the point that our surgeon says he believes he can remove the cancer by a lumpectomy (only cutting out a small portion) and not a mastectomy (cutting off the whole breast). This is an answered prayer! Our last meeting with him, he told us not to expect the DCIS to shrink and we would probably be facing a mastectomy. We praise God! We have hope that Ruth seems to have passed through the worst part of cancer treatment.

A visit from our SIM field director. We have had multiple encouraging visitors.

Ruth rings the bell after her final chemo treatment.

Ruth's surgery is on October 2nd.

The doctor must get a clear cut where the outer edges of his cut need to test negative for cancer or they will have to discuss another surgery. Please pray for more successes in Ruth's treatment.

We're Hitting the Road

Believe it or not, our time in the U.S. is a job. It is our chance to reconnect with prayer supporters and dear friends. Our flexibility in the past has allowed us to crisscross the U.S. with no problems. Cancer treatment doesn't understand that. In fact Ruth is supposed to be back for targeted treatment every 3 weeks and we still have a month of radiation ahead of us.

However, it looks like her recovery from the lumpectomy will be easier than other treatments. On October 16th after a targeted treatment, she may get to set out with all of us on our missionary tour to visit Big Fork, Montana, Spokane, Washington, Seattle, and then Sunnyvale, California. They might even allow her to stay out for a month in between her targeted treatments! We are excited to get to see those of you in these locations and hopefully some of you that are on the paths to get there.

Pray for our travels.

Pray that God may give us words to speak.

Pray for good planning. Ruth may have to take a flight or two depending on when she is ready to travel and when she has to be back for treatment.

Odds and Ends Prayers and Praises

Luke will defend his M.A. Thesis in mid-November. Pray that he finishes it. Yahiya is able to continue in his work as a lifeguard. We have help from Luke's parents and brother's family for homeschool. This is what typical treatment day looks like. Chemo is over, but Ruth will return every three weeks for targeted treatment until one year from when her treatment started.

Travel Schedule

October 20 Bethany Lutheran, Big Fork October 27 Redeemer Lutheran, Spokane November 3 Denny Park Lutheran, Seattle November 10 St. Luke's, Sunnyvale

Our kids have enjoyed time with their family. We have been present for several birthdays, including Alasa turning 14 and Gideon turning 7. Da'ud will celebrate his birthday before our travel starts again.

Striving (with you) side by side for the faith of the gospel.

The Schroeders

10 Lies Satan Feeds Us about Worship

*from Joe McKeever https://www.crosswalk.com/author/joe-mckeever/

* Worship is an integral part of the Christian life. It allows us to solidify our relationship with God and reminds us to focus our hearts and minds on his word. In the same way a human body requires food and water, so does our spiritual health depend on worship. Without it, our hearts grow cold and our faith withers into nothing.

* Scripture tells us that the devil will do anything to get between us and God. 1 Peter 5:8 even warns us to be, "Be alert and of sober mind. Your enemy the devil prowls around like a roaring lion looking for someone to devour."

* Our enemy will wait, and scheme, and hunt for any sign of weakness in our lives. It shouldn't come as any shock that he'll try to sabotage our worship. In the days ahead, be sure to put on the armor of God, and keep these 10 lies from stealing your joy!

* 1. Worship is All about You

You'll need a worshipful setting, worshipful music, in a building with worshipful architecture. The leaders of the worship service must do things just right; otherwise, if you do not worship, the fault is all theirs.

* 2. You Should Be "Getting Something" Out of Worship

If you leave the church campus unable to identify what you "got out" of the service, someone has failed you mightily.

* 3. Worship is Irrelevant; it Doesn't Matter

Millions of Americans are buying into that lie. All you have to do is see how most people skip church altogether on Sundays.

* 4. Only Exciting, Emotional Worship Matters

If it's not loud, fast, and intense, it doesn't count.

Listen to people put down the more traditional, more restrained, more formal type of worship and you will know that lie is being bought into. We speak of worship services being dull, dead, sleep-inducing, and cold. One wonders if it ever occurs to us that the Father in Heaven alone judges worship.

* 5. The Quality of Your Offering Does Not Matter

Read the Old Testament book of Malachi to see the folly of this. People were bringing diseased animals to the temple as their offerings. The Heavenly Father was/is no fool; He understands an insult when one is given. The amount of your offering and the sincerity of your worship matter. But not in the way we might think. The widow (Mark 12) put in two small coins, but our Lord said hers was the largest offering given that day. The point is obvious: What gives the offering its weight is its value to us.

* 6. The Architecture Must Be Conducive to Worship

My friend Mike Canady tells of an American preacher who traveled to the African country where he (Mike) served as a missionary, and addressed the believers there on how to construct buildings and Sunday School space and such. Mike laughs, "The people there knew how to have church: Under the nearest mango tree."

* 7. Everyone Else Worships Better Than You

You're the only one who gets bored, has trouble concentrating, and whose mind wanders during prayer.

* 8. Your Feeble Attempts are an Insult to the Lord

Better you stayed away than to offend the Lord with such.

* 9. We Pay the Preachers to Worship for Us

Our job is to come to church and watch them perform and then critique them. If I give them a passing grade, I have done my job.

* 10. Worship Is a Passive Activity

When our worship leaders do their jobs well, we worship. Worship is something that happens to us, not something we do. Whether I feel anything or not is unimportant; what counts is I can check off worship for one more week.
